

WIRED

BEFORE YOU DO A WIRE TRANSFER, TAKE A CLOSER LOOK. Hackers are harvesting your client data and using it to steal money.

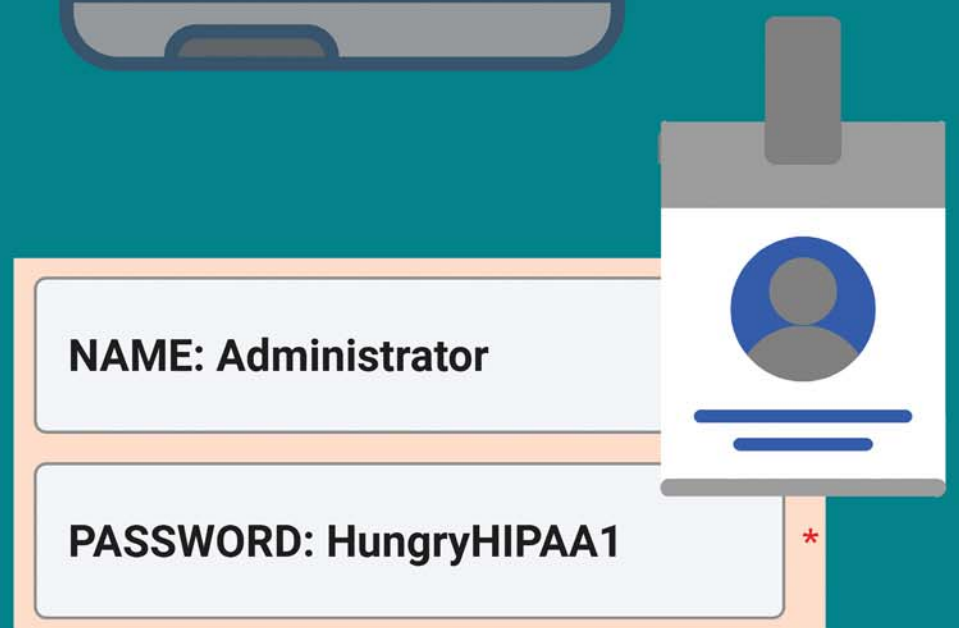

CROSSED WIRE

Hackers use client data to pose as account administrators. They request fake payments to have you wire money into their accounts.

LIVE WIRE

Electronic fund transfers are convenient, but hackers can easily mimic an authorized administrator online.

Look closely at a request. There may be clues to a false identity, such as misspelling of the company name in the email.

No, I did not request a wire transfer.
That request is not authorized.

USE OUT-OF-BAND AUTHENTICATION

Confirm identity with an additional method such as by phone, text, or in-person.

Keep Your Funds safe.
